

LoveReading4kids.co.uk
is a book website created for parents and children to make choosing books easy
and fun

Opening extract from
There's No Such Thing as a Snappenpoop

Written by Jeanne Willis

Illustrated by Matt Saunders

Published by
Little Tiger Press

All Text is Copyright © of the Author and/or Illustrator

Please print off and read at your leisure.

For Jemma Raeburn
– J W

To my big brother Joe
– M S

LITTLE TIGER PRESS
1 The Coda Centre, 189 Munster Road, London SW6 6AW
www.littletiger.co.uk

First published in Great Britain 2016

Text copyright © Jeanne Willis 2016
Illustrations copyright © Matt Saunders 2016

Jeanne Willis and Matt Saunders have asserted their rights to be identified as the author and illustrator of this work under the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act, 1988

A CIP catalogue record for this book is available from the British Library

All rights reserved • ISBN 978-1-84869-187-2

Printed in China • LTP/XXXX/XXXX/XXXX

2 4 6 8 10 9 7 5 3 1

THERE'S NO SUCH THING AS A SNAPPENPOOP

Jeanne Willis ✖ Matt Saunders

LITTLE TIGER PRESS
London

Big Brother always played the best games.
But the best game of all was... not letting Little Brother join in!

"Can I play?" he said.
"No," said Big Brother.

"Please let me play!" said Little Brother.
"I'll do anything you say."
"Ok," said Big Brother.
"Go and fetch me a unicorn."

"All right, back soon," said Little Brother.
And off he ran. Through fields and forests.
He was gone for hours.

"That got rid of him!"
laughed Big Brother.
"There are no unicorns."

BUT . . .

. . . Little Brother found one!
Big Brother could not believe his eyes.
"Now can I play?" said Little Brother.

Big Brother shook his head.
"No! It's the wrong kind of unicorn," he said.
"It's too small. You can only play if you fetch me a lion with wings."