Same Sky and the children
of Brighton and Hove*

It's a dark winter's evening.

Lessons finished long ago.

And something odd is going on in the playground ...

Everywhere you look
there are clocks.

Round clocks,
square clocks,
triangular clocks.

Pentagonal clocks, hexagonal clocks,
octagonal clocks.

Egg-shaped clocks,
heart-shaped clocks,
star-shaped clocks.

But look closely.

They're not clocks – they're lanterns.

Class One are in the playground and they've all got clock-shaped lanterns!
