

For everyone who needs a home – E.A.M.

To my family, and to all my childhood street play-companions
(the two and the four-legged ones) – T.U.

Elki is Not My Dog

First published in Great Britain in 2024
by Scallywag Press Ltd, 10 Sutherland Row, London SW1V 4JT

Text copyright © Elena Arevalo Melville, 2024

Illustration copyright © Tonka Uzu, 2024

The rights of Elena Arevalo Melville and Tonka Uzu have been asserted by them in accordance with the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act, 1988

All rights reserved

Printed on FSC paper in China by Toppan Leefung

001

British Library Cataloguing in Publication Data available
ISBN 978-1-915252-36-4

With love and treats for the real Elki, a Romanian rescue dog and the model for this book, and with thanks to her person, Tamsin – J.T. (editor)

Written by

ELENA AREVALO MELVILLE

Illustrated by

TONKA UZU

Scallywag Press Ltd
LONDON

Elki is not my dog.

In fact I don't know for sure that her name is Elki.

She must have had a name when we met her,
but we couldn't ask her because none of us speaks 'Dog'.

Poor Elki. She must have been walking for a long, long time.

Her paws were worn, her coat was dull,
her eyes were sad.

But we knew we were going to be friends . . .

On really hot days, Elki would sit down with the rest of us eating ice-cream in the shade.

She would talk to us with a smile,
and a wag of her tail.

Then, when it was time to go home,
Katya would go home,
Rosin would go home,
Abdullah would go home,
I would go home . . .

but Elki did not have a home to go to.

So she could stay out in the warm evenings.
Oh, how we wished we could all stay out in the night with Elki!