

Helping you choose books for children

Opening extract from

The Chronicles of Spiderwick

Written by

DiTerlizzi and Black

Published by

Walker

All text is copyright of the author and illustrator

Please print off and read at your leisure.

KING & SCHUSTER BOOKS FOR YOUNG READERS
 An imprint of Simon & Schuster Children's Publishing Division
 1230 Avenue of the Americas, New York, New York 10020

Copyright © 2007 by Tony DiTerlizzi and Holly Black
 Contains material from: The Field Guide copyright © 2007 by Tony DiTerlizzi and Holly Black, The Sewing Stone copyright © 2007 by Tony DiTerlizzi and Holly Black, Lacinda's Secret copyright © 2007 by Tony DiTerlizzi and Holly Black, The Ironwood Tree copyright © 2004 by Tony DiTerlizzi and Holly Black, The Wrath of Malgorath copyright © 2004 by Tony DiTerlizzi and Holly Black, Arthur Spiderwick's Field Guide to the Fantastical World Around You copyright © 2005 by Tony DiTerlizzi and Holly Black

KING & SCHUSTER BOOKS FOR YOUNG READERS is a trademark of Simon & Schuster, Inc.

Design by Carlton Books Limited

The publishers would like to thank the following sources for their kind permission to reproduce the pictures in this publication:

Alamy; The Bridgman Art Library/Private Collection; Tori Campbell; Corbis; © Dorling Kindersley/Colin Keates; Getty Images; Calum Hutchinson; iStock.com; Mary Evans Picture Library; Real Carriage Door Co., Inc.; Science Photo Library/Gustoimages; © SuperStock Inc.; SXC.hu.

Every effort has been made to acknowledge correctly and contact the source and/or copyright holder of each picture, and Carlton Books Limited apologizes for any unintentional errors or omissions, which will be corrected in future editions of this book.

Hogshead

Them that helped us:
 Book designers: Mark Sewen and Tony DiTerlizzi
 Cover designers: Jake Dacosta and Tony DiTerlizzi
 Creative Director: Clare Poggaley

Additional text: Rod Green
 Editorial: Kevin Lewis, Joanna Feltz, Selina Wood
 Managing editorial: Dorothy Gribbin
 Production: Liza Moore

The text for this book is set in so many typefaces that we can't remember them all.
 The illustrations for this book are rendered in all sorts of mixed media.
 Manufactured in China
 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 1
 CIP data for this book is available from the Library of Congress.

US ISBN-13: 978-1-4169-5038-7
 US ISBN-10: 1-4169-5038-9

UK ISBN-13: 978-1-84738-167-5
 UK ISBN-10: 1-84738-167-7

These pages show some things that I
Have collected as the years went by.
Folk leave such treasures lying round
On tables, shelves, or on the ground.
Be neat and tidy is what I say,
And put valuable things away.
These things were once owned by others—
Like Spiderwick, Mallory, and her brothers.

Arthur Spiderwick with his wife, Constance,
and daughter (Great-Auntie) Lucinda

THE CHRONICLES OF SPIDERWICK

A GRAND TOUR
OF THE ENCHANTED WORLD
NAVIGATED BY THIMBLETACK

Based on the bestselling series by TONY DI TERLIZZI
and HOLLY BLACK

Simon & Schuster Books for Young Readers
New York London Toronto Sydney

Thimbletack

Your Friend and Guide

*About myself I dare not tell,
To learn, ask those who know me well.
Then cast your eyes on tales of old,
for in those tales my tale is told.*

BROWNIE RESEARCH

Once you know where to look for them, brownies crop up everywhere.

There was a baseball team called the St. Louis Browns who had a brownie as their mascot.

The Brothers Grimm wrote a story about the elves and the shoemaker. An old cobbler who laid out his tools and materials in his workshop at night ready for work the next morning regularly came back to find that all the shoes had been made for him during the night by the elves. Only these were not elves at all. The story was originally written in German. The elves were called Heintzelmannchen, which is German for "brownies." In German the word elf is simply Elf. "The Elves and the Shoemaker" should really have been translated as "The Brownies and the Shoemaker."

*Brownies are a blessing true,
But anger one and pity you.*

MYSTERIOUS CREATURES OF SCOTLAND

No stranger being can be found than the brownie. Unlike a ghost or a poltergeist, these tiny creatures are of great value to any household. They will do odd jobs around the house, in the stables, or in the farmyard, but never stray far from home. Once a brownie has adopted a house or a family, it will remain loyal forever, and ask for nothing in return.

In many grand houses, a small seat near the fireplace is always left vacant for the brownie to ensure that he knows he is welcome, although the owners of the house may never see their little worker. At Leithen Hall in the county of Dumfries, there was

Dear Boggart,
We are writing you to say that we are sorry we messed up your first house. We hope you like what we made and that even if you don't, that you'll stop pinching us—and other things—and that if you have Jeffrey and Lemondrop to please take care of them because they are good mice.

Yours sincerely,

Mallory Grace Jared Grace Simon Grace

THE PLAIN DEALER 16

and after buying the Cleveland Browns NFL team in 1961 for a reported $4 million, one of Art Modell's first moves as the new boss was to begin the process of removing the team's famous "brownie" logo from official literature, including game programs.

Modell was said to detest the brownie character, and before long the little guy had almost

*Make no difference anyway.
Brownies have no time for play!*

*As a girl, Lucinda played
With Jack, and many were mistaid.*

*As sketched, this likeness is very clear,
Showing my smile from ear to ear!*

*This brownie lives within the walls of our house.
His name is Thimbletack.*

A badminton shuttlecock, with a straight pin in its center as his feather duster.

Notes and Observations

- Brownie
- Torte (Bavaria)
- Dorono (Russia)
- Hausmarbrunnen (Germany)
- Jack o' the Bowl (Switzerland) - Two brownies are famous for taking the left drop of milk from a bowl
- Lives in the walls of a house, under the floorboards, or in disused storage spaces.
- Approximately 6 inches (15 cm) tall.
- Mixed, modern-day features.
- Large, yellow teeth.
- Long hair, like straw.
- Forbid, no talks with.
- Furry arms and legs.
- Large hands, rough from hard work.
- Large feet.
- Wears doll's clothes or homemade outfits.
- Coloration: Dull, brownish skin tone.
- Voice patterns: Talks with a high-pitched, staccato.
- Character: Crafty and a hard worker.
- Artistic and a gifted housewife/craftswoman.
- Feeding habits: Vegetarian. Can consume bread, cheese, or other dairy products.
- Spacial posture: Usually curled up, but can stretch or transform appearance.

This cap is made of mouse leather.

*I want brownies
as much as
can a boy,
a brownie
of kindnes*

I spoke with This about my theory transformation. I

BROWNIE