

Helping you choose books for children opening extract from

Oxford Primary Thesaurus

written by

Susan Rennie

published by

Oxford University Press

All text is copyright of the author and illustrator

please print off and read at your leisure.

2 They saw the lights of an alien spaceship.

- extraterrestrial

alien noun

WORD WEB

I wrote a story about aliens from Mars.

- extraterrestrial, alien life-form, spaceman or spacewoman, starman or starwoman

AN ALIEN FROM ANOTHER PLANET MIGHT BE

humanoid, insect-like, lizard-like, reptilian, intelligent, primitive, super-intelligent, telepathic

BODY PARTS AN ALIEN MIGHT HAVE

antenna, blotches, scales, slime, sucker, tentacle, webbing

TRANSPORT AN ALIEN MIGHT USE

alien vessel, flying saucer, mothership, pod, spacecraft, spaceship, starship, time-machine, transporter beam

- An alien might call someone from Earth an Earthling.

SEE ALSO planet, space

alight adjective

The bonfire was still alight.

- burning, lit, on fire, ignited

alike adjective

All the houses in the street looked alike.

- similar, the same, identical, indistinguishable, comparable, uniform

alive adjective

Fortunately, my goldfish was still alive.

- living, live, existing, in existence, surviving, breathing, flourishing

OPPOSITE dead

alliance noun

The two countries formed an alliance.

- partnership, union, association, federation, league
- An alliance between political parties is a coalition.

allocate verb

I allocated some pocket money for buying presents.

- allot, assign, set aside, reserve, earmark

allow verb

1 They don't allow skateboards in the playground.

- permit, let, authorize, approve of, agree to, consent to, give permission for, license, put up with, stand, support, tolerate

OPPOSITE forbid

2 Have you allowed enough time for the journey?

- allocate, set aside, assign, grant, earmark

all right adjective

1 The survivors appeared to be all right.

- well, unhurt, unharmed, uninjured, safe

2 The food in the hotel was all right.

- satisfactory, acceptable, adequate, reasonable, passable

3 Is it all right to play music in here?

- acceptable, permissible

ally noun

The two countries work together as allies.

- friend, partner

OPPOSITE enemy

almost adverb

1 I have almost finished the crossword.

- nearly, practically, just about, virtually, all but, as good as, not quite

2 Almost a hundred people came to the concert.*

- about, approximately, around

alone adjective, adverb

1 Did you go to the party alone?

- on your own, by yourself, unaccompanied

2 Zoe had no friends and felt very alone.

- lonely, friendless, isolated, solitary, lonesome, desolate

also adverb

We need some bread, and also more butter.

- in addition, besides, additionally, too, furthermore, moreover alter verb

They have altered the route for the cycle race.

- change, adjust, adapt, modify, transform, amend, make different, revise, vary

alternative noun

I lost my bus money and had no alternative but to walk.

- choice, option

altogether adverb

1 I'm not altogether satisfied.

- completely, entirely, absolutely, quite, totally, utterly, wholly, fully, perfectly, thoroughly

2 Our house has five rooms altogether.

- in all, in total, all told

always adverb

1 The sea is always in motion.

- constantly, continuously, endlessly, eternally, for ever, perpetually, unceasingly

2 This bus is always late.

- consistently, continually, invariably, persistently, regularly, repeatedly

amateur noun

All the players in this team are unpaid amateurs.

OPPOSITE professional

amaze verb

It amazes me to think that the Earth is billions of years old.

- astonish, astound, startle, surprise, stun, shock, stagger, dumbfound
- (informal) flabbergast

amazed adjective

I was amazed by the number of emails I received.

- astonished, astounded, stunned, surprised, dumbfounded, speechless, staggered
- (informal) flabbergasted

amazing adjective

The Northern Lights are an amazing sight.

- astonishing, astounding, staggering, remarkable, surprising, extraordinary, incredible, breathtaking, phenomenal, sensational, stupendous, tremendous, wonderful, mind-boggling

ambition noun

1 She had great ambition when she was young.

- drive, enthusiasm, enterprise, push, zeal

2 My ambition is to play tennis at Wimbledon.

- goal, aim, intention, objective, target, desire, dream, wish, hope, aspiration

ambitious adjective

1 If you're ambitious, you will probably succeed.

- enterprising, enthusiastic, committed, go-ahead, keen

OPPOSITE unambitious

2 I think your plan is too ambitious.

- grand, big, large-scale

amend verb

I amended the letter to make it clearer.

- change, alter, adjust, modify, revise

among preposition

We played hide-and-seek among the bushes.

- between, amid, in, in the middle of, surrounded by amount noun

1 Mum wrote a cheque for the correct amount.

- sum, total, whole

2 There's a large amount of paper in the cupboard.

- quantity, measure, supply, volume, mass, bulk