

Helping your children choose books they will love

Lovereading4kids.co.uk is a book website created for parents and children to make choosing books easy and fun

Opening extract from
Can It Be About Me ?

Written by Cheryl Moskowitz

Published by Frances Lincoln
Children's Books

All Text is Copyright © of the Author and/or Illustrator

Please print off and read at your leisure.

To Martha

With special thanks to the children and teachers at Rhodes Avenue Primary School

JANETTA OTTER-BARRY BOOKS

Can it be about me? copyright © Frances Lincoln 2012
Text copyright © Cheryl Moskowitz 2009
Illustrations copyright © Ros Asquith 2009

First published in Great Britain in 2009 by Circle Time Press
This edition first published in Great Britain in 2012 by Frances Lincoln Children's Books, 4 Torriano Mews, Torriano Avenue, London NW5 2RZ
www.franceslincoln.com

All rights reserved

No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted, in any form, or by any means, electrical, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise without the prior written permission of the publisher or a licence permitting restricted copying. In the United Kingdom such licences are issued by the Copyright Licensing Agency, Saffron House, 6-10 Kirby Street, London EC1N 8TS.

A catalogue record for this book is available from the British Library.

ISBN 978-1-84780-340-5

Set in Sabon

Printed and bound by CPI Group (UK) Ltd, Croydon, CR0 4YY in June 2012

1 3 5 7 9 8 6 4 2

Can it be about me?

Poems by

CHERYL MOSKOWITZ

Illustrated by

ROS ASQUITH

F

FRANCES LINCOLN
CHILDREN'S BOOKS

Contents

Can it be about me? 9
Martha wants to say something 11
Reasons 13
Some days you're just not meant to go out 15
Lunchbox hero 17
Vegetarian 21
Jealousproof 23
Kidstop 25
Number troubles 27
Sun cinquain 29
Haiku for summer 30
T-r-e-a-s-u-r-e 31
Moments of thought 35
On learning about Egypt in Class 3SC 37
Bastet poem 38

Sonnet of wishes 41

My teacher's a witch 43

New kid 45

Friends 49

Circle time 51

Topic work in Science 53

Wait for me 55

My corner 57

You say 58

What did you do... on your holiday? 60

What I do when someone calls me stupid
(for George) 62

I'm not superstitious 64

Mumdadmehomeschoolfriends 67

Order of the day (abbreviated) 70

Spelling test 73

Secrets 75

Rubbish 77

The party 79

Don't let the sun go down 83

Find a penny 85

Grudges 86

Headache 89

Excuses 93

When we're all grown-up 97

Wet play 101

Onomatopoeia rap 105

Our class hamster 106

Elephant at my window 107

Clapping games for two 108

Harry is a genius 110

Best 113

Some things I will remember 115

I love you... more 116

When I decided to write poems about being at primary school, I thought I'd better remind myself what it's like. It has been quite a long time since I was there.

I asked at the local school if I could come in and be a 'fly on the wall' to gather some ideas.

Being a fly on the wall means you sit and observe what is going on without being noticed. But I am not a fly and wasn't exactly invisible.

One boy, John, was particularly keen to know what I was doing there. He was a very smiley boy who was known for only ever wearing shorts, even when it was snowing.

John asked me why I was sitting in the corner making notes. I told him that I was trying to get ideas for some poems. He suggested that the first poem be about him.

Can it be about me?

Are you writing a poem will it be long

can it be about me?

My name is John.

I don't have any trousers on.

I just wear shorts

for all the year

but don't write that because it doesn't rhyme.

In one class everyone liked to speak out.
But they were supposed to put their hands up before they did. It sometimes took a long time for Miss Chapman, the teacher, to call on everyone.

It can be frustrating to wait, especially if you have something really important you want to tell people.

One little girl had her hand up for a long time, trying to do everything right so she would be picked. I think I know how she felt.

Martha wants to say something

Oh Miss, I have a good one please look over here at me I've been sitting still as anything surely you can see.

I'm not fidgeting like William or kicking Ahmed's chair I've been waiting very patiently
so it really isn't fair.

I've got my finger on my lips and my arm raised overhead Once you almost saw it but you chose Eleanor instead.

I'm not shouting out like Isobel or pulling Holly's hair I'm minding my own business
so it really isn't fair.

I've planned exactly how to say it this thing I want to say I'm crossing all my fingers so that you will look this way.

I'm not daydreaming like Thomas or giggling like Keir I'm being good as gold so Miss, it really isn't fair.

There's only five more minutes until the home bell goes I'm keeping all my fingers crossed and now I've crossed my toes.

I didn't burp out loud like Roxy she said she did it for a dare I wouldn't be so silly, Miss so you see it really isn't fair.

Three minutes now, oh thank you, Miss you really aren't so rotten You've asked me what I want to say but . . . now I have forgotten!

There are two sides (at least) to every argument.
Some schools have a uniform, some don't.
This one didn't. But that didn't stop some people thinking that it should.

I never had to wear a uniform when I was at primary school, but sometimes I wished that I could.

Reasons

Reasons to wear a uniform:

so I don't have to think too hard when I get dressed in the morning
so me and my friend can be twins because my mum thinks I should Reasons to wear whatever I want:

so I can look at the day and decide what's right to put on so my friends can't copy me because my mum thinks I shouldn't

On some mornings, even before you open your eyes to see what the day looks like outside, you know you'd rather spend it in bed.

That's just how it is.

Some days you're just not meant to go out

It is a dog barking, nose dripping, pavement tripping, finger flicking, boy spitting kind of day.

If I had my way I'd rather stay in then I could say it's a TV watching, teddy hugging, toast eating, book reading, bed snuggling, curtain closed
kind of day
and so much better that way.

