

Helping you choose books for children opening extract from Play time

written by Julia Donaldson

published by Macmillan Publishers

All text is copyright of the author and illustrator

please print off and read at your leisure.

The Three Billy Goats Gruff

SCENE 1

[The three Billy Goats Gruff are in a field by a bridge. The Troll is hiding under the bridge.]

Little: Hello! I'm Little Billy Goat Gruff.

Middle: I'm Middle-sized Billy Goat Gruff.

Big: I'm Big Billy Goat Gruff.

Troll: I'm a troll.

Little: I like eating grass.

Middle: I like eating grass too.

Big: So do I.

Troll: I like eating goats!

Little: Big Billy Goat Gruff?

Big: Yes?

Little: I don't like this grass.

Play Time

Big: Why not?

Little: It's all brown.

Big: You're right. It's not very nice.

Middle: But look at that grass over there – that isn't brown.

Little: No, it's green! Let's go and eat it.

Big: Wait!

Middle: Why?

Big: To get to that grass we need to go over the bridge.

Little: So what?

Big: There's a troll under the bridge.

Middle: A troll?

Big: Yes, and he likes eating goats.

Little: Help!

Middle: What can we do?

Big: Just let me think.

The Three Billy Goats Gruff

Little: I don't like trolls!

Middle: Sssh! Big Billy Goat Gruff is thinking.

Little: Will he think of something?

Middle: Yes. Now shh!

Big: Come here! This is what we can do!

[They whisper together.]

SCENE 2

[Little Billy Goat Gruff starts to cross the bridge. The Troll pops up.]

Little: [on the bridge] Trip-trap, trip-trap, trip-trap.

Troll: Who's that trip-trapping over my bridge?

Little: It's me, Little Billy Goat Gruff.

Troll: You look good. I'm going to eat you!

Little: Oh no, don't eat me! Wait for Middle-sized Billy Goat Gruff.

Troll: Why?

Play Time

Little: He's bigger than me.

Troll: All right then. I'll wait for him

Little: Trip-trap, trip-trap, trip-trap. Green grass, here I come!

Middle: [on the bridge] Clip-clop, clip-clop, clip-clop.

Troll: Who's that clip-clopping over my bridge?

Middle: It's me, Middle-sized Billy Goat Gruff.

Troll: You look good. I'm going to eat you!

Middle: Oh no, don't eat me! Wait for Big Billy Goat Gruff.

Troll: Why?

Middle: He's bigger than me.

Troll: All right then, I'll wait for him.

Middle: Clip-clop, clip-clop, clip-clop. Hello, Little Billy Goat Gruff!

Little: Hello! Have some of this green grass.

Middle: Mmmmmmmm, it's so good!

The Three Billy Goats Gruff

Big: [on the bridge] Tramp-stamp, tramp-stamp, tramp-stamp.

Troll: Who's that tramp-stamping over my bridge?

Big: It's me, Big Billy Goat Gruff.

Troll: You look good. I'm going to eat you!

Big: That's what you think!

Troll: Why, what do you think?

Big: I think that I'm going to butt you!

[Big Billy Goat Gruff butts the Troll.]

Troll: Help! I'm falling into the river. Splosh!

Big: Tramp-stamp, tramp-stamp, tramp-stamp.

Little: Hello, Big Billy Goat Gruff! Have some of this green grass – it's so good!

Middle: Good old Big Billy Goat Gruff. I said he'd think of something and he did!

Big: That old Troll won't get us now!

The Boy Who Cried Wolf

A play
by Julia Donaldson

Four parts

Suitable for a beginner readers' reading group or for performance

Running time: Seven minutes

Characters

Shopkeeper

Tom

Wolf

Baker

The Boy Who Cried Wolf

[There are two shops and a hill nearby. One shop is a bakery and the other a grocer's shop. Tom goes into the grocer's shop.]

Shopkeeper: Hello, Tom. What do you want?

Tom: Some milk for my picnic, please. I'm taking my sheep up the hill.

Shopkeeper: I'd like to be you, up on the hill all day. Here's your milk.

Tom: Thank you. Oh look!

Shopkeeper: What?

Tom: There's a monkey playing with your eggs!

Shopkeeper: Where? I can't see a monkey.

Tom: Ha ha! It was just a trick.

Shopkeeper: You and your tricks! Off you go!

Tom: I like playing tricks!

Wolf: [hiding] So do I!

Play Time

[Tom goes into the bakery.]

Baker: Hello, Tom. What do you want?

Tom: A cake for my picnic, please.

Baker: I wish I could have a picnic too.

Wolf: Me too – a picnic of sheep!

Baker: Here's your cake.

Tom: Thank you. Oh look!

Baker: What?

Tom: There's a giraffe eating your gingerbread!

Baker: Where? I can't see a giraffe.

Tom: Ha ha! It was just a trick.

Baker: You and your tricks! Off you go!

Tom: That was fun! I do like playing tricks.

Wolf: So do I – and I like eating sheep too!

Tom: Come on, sheep! Up the hill!

The Boy Who Cried Wolf

[Tom goes up the hill with the sheep.]

Tom: Here we are. I'll have my milk, and then I'll play another trick.

[Tom drinks the milk. Then he runs down the hill, shouting.]

Tom: Help! Help! There's a wolf eating my sheep!

Shopkeeper: I'm coming, Tom!

Tom: Quick, quick, run!

Shopkeeper: I am running!

Tom: Here we are!

Shopkeeper: I can't see a wolf.

Tom: Ha ha! It was just a trick.

Shopkeeper: That's not funny.

Tom: Don't be cross. You said you wanted to be up on the hill.

Shopkeeper: I'm going to tell your dad about you.

[The shopkeeper goes away down the hill.]

Play Time

Tom: That was fun! I'll have my cake now. Then I'll play another trick.

[Tom eats the cake. Then he runs down the hill, shouting.]

Tom: Help! Help! There's a wolf eating my sheep!

Baker: I'm coming, Tom!

Tom: Quick, quick, run!

Baker: I am running!

Tom: Here we are!

Baker: I can't see a wolf.

Tom: Ha ha! It was just a trick. There isn't one.

Wolf: [hiding] That's what he thinks!

Baker: That's not funny. I'm going to tell your mum.

Tom: No, don't do that. Go back to your shop. There's a crocodile in there, eating up all the cakes.

[The baker goes down the hill. The wolf comes out of hiding.]

The Boy Who Cried Wolf

Wolf: Good day to you, Tom.

Tom: Oh no, a wolf. Help!

Wolf: And I'm going to have a good day too. I do so like sheep for my picnic.

Tom: No, stop! You can't eat my sheep!

[Tom runs down the hill, shouting.]

Tom: Help! Help! There's a wolf eating my sheep!

Shopkeeper: Oh no there isn't. It's just a trick.

Tom: It's not. I'll go and get my dad.

Shopkeeper: He won't come. I've told him about your tricks.

Tom: Oh no! Help! Help!

Baker: What is it?

Tom: There's a wolf eating my sheep!

Baker: Go away, Tom. You can't trick me.

Tom: I'll go and get my mum.

Play Time

Baker: She won't come. I've told her about your tricks.

Tom: Oh no! No one will come.

[Tom runs back up the hill.]

Wolf: Hello, Tom. Thank you for the picnic. I do like sheep. Oh look!

Tom: What?

Wolf: There's an elephant eating your hat!

Tom: Where? I can't see an elephant.

Wolf: Ha ha! It was just a trick! Good day to you.